

PARIS DEFEATS LOCALS AND WIN FIRST POSITION

Cardinals Defeated By Paris Club Thursday by Score of 3 to 2—Bourbonites Force Harrison County Club Out of Lead.

Paris, Ky., Aug. 10. — Blakefield had the better of a pitching duel with Miner here today, and Paris won, 3 to 2, going into the lead in the Blue Grass League. Although Miner struck out 11 men, he did not succeed in keeping the hits scattered as well as his opponent, and was not quite as effective with men on bases.

Woods, of Paris, was the hitting star of the game, getting three out of three. Wunker made a brilliant barehanded catch in the first inning. Both teams played fast ball in the field, and the largest week-day crowd of the season was on hand for the exhibition. Both teams played errorless ball.

Remarkable feature of the game was that the Maysville team had but two assists, the first baseman getting but four putouts. Score:

A peculiar incident about the standing of the clubs in both the National and American Leagues is the position occupied by the clubs of the cities who have teams in each circuit both clubs having the same position in its respective league. Both St. Louis teams first, both New York teams second, both Chicago teams fourth, both Philadelphia teams are seventh and both Boston clubs are eighth. Something that does not happen often.

CAP. ELLISON RETIRES FROM THE RIVER AFTER 43 YEARS

Popular Riverman, Long Captain of Green Line Steamers Retires—Was Owner and Master of Old Phaeton.

The Manchester Signal says: Captain John Prescott Ellison was chief clerk on the Emma Graham in 1879. He had been cashier of the Manchester National Bank prior to that year. The Ohio was attractive to him and in 1881 he bought the fast steamer Phaeton that exploded near Springdale the latter part of June killing several persons, with a total loss to Captain Ellison of ten thousand dollars. No insurance could be bought for a boat of that type. Capt. Ellison regretted the loss of life but would not surrender. He buckled down to river work and rought it for 43 years.

After the death of his mother a few weeks ago he concluded to rest and last Thursday morning when the Greenwood touched the wharf he said goodbye to Capt. Greene and the crew.

Capt. Ellison will stay at the fine old Ellison home that was built by his father at the close of the civil war and where his whole life seems to be centered. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Games will have charge of the home.

I will call at the home and shampoo your hair for 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Rose Anderson, 215 Beech street. Phone 780. 10AUG1

WEALTHY FARMER ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF RENAKER KILLING

Evidence Found By Police and Detectives Laid Before Family and Brother Swears To Warrant Causing Young Man's Arrest.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 10. — Having arrived at the conclusion that the mysterious death of Leon Renaker, America's Turkey King, on July 23 was to go down in police annals as an unsolved mystery, residents of Winchester were thrown into a furor of excitement late tonight when Scobee Hardman, 24 years old, was arrested and charged with the murder of Renaker, who was found in his bed with his skull crushed.

Hardman, who was said to be a close friend of the Renakers, has been under surveillance of the local police and operatives of the Crim & Ryan Detective Agency, Cincinnati, since the night the murder was discovered, sixteen days ago. He is the son of Lee Hardman, of Austerlitz, seven miles from here, a wealthy farmer, who is well-known in Winchester.

Shortly after a coroner's jury returned a verdict that Mr. Renaker came to his death at the hands of unknown persons, Chief of Police Mullens, Deputy Oliver and Detective Ora Slater of the Crim & Ryan Detective Agency placed the evidence they had gathered in the hands of the Renaker family, and Walter Renaker, a brother of the dead man, swore to a warrant charging Hardman with murder.

The motive for the murder still remains a mystery. Chief Mullens, when questioned after the arrest of Hardman, refused to disclose any motive Hardman may have had for killing Renaker and also declined to state his reasons for casting suspicion on the accused.

"I do not wish to say at this time why we believe Hardman to be guilty or to discuss any reason he may have had for the murder," Chief Mullens said. "We investigated the case and turned the evidence over to the Renaker family and the arrest followed."

Hardman's arrest has borne out the theory of those investigating the case that robbery was not the motive. His parents are said to be wealthy and Hardman moved in the best circles in Winchester. During the World War Hardman served with the A. E. F. in France for several months.

When arrested the accused denied that he was guilty of the murder. He was placed in the Winchester jail and later escorted to the Fayette county jail at Lexington, Ky., to prevent any disturbance that might have been caused by the dead man's friends in Winchester.

Scobee Hardman is a cousin of Little Geneva Hardman, whose murder by the negro, Will Lockett, at Elkton, Ky., on March 11, 1920, precipitated the Lexington riot in which four persons were killed and several injured. After the arrest of Hardman tonight detectives working on the case asserted that they had suspected the accused from the first and that they had been compelled to follow false leads in order to outwit persons who wished to shield Hardman from arrest.

It is the belief of the detectives that the murderer was hiding in the Renaker home on the night of July 23 when Leon Renaker returned to Winchester from Cincinnati and that the deed was carried out under a carefully laid plan.

SERIOUS BASEBALL ACCIDENT.

On last Thursday afternoon Mr. Brittle Archibald suffered a broken nose, caused by being hit with a baseball, while playing at the local ball park. The nose swelled very quickly and bled profusely.

Mr. Archibald seemed to be getting along fine until Tuesday night when a broken bone worked down his nose severing an artery. It required the services of Drs. C. H. and W. B. Wallin all night to stop the constant flow of blood from the nose and ears.

The doctors succeeded in checking the loss of blood early Wednesday morning and as we go to press we understand Mr. Archibald is resting easier, although he is in a very weakened condition. — Brooksville Review.

CHAUTAUQUA PLAYS PLEASE CROWDS; LEC- TURE, MUSIC TODAY

Bath Whitworth Players Present Two Comedies to Large Audiences—Dr. O'Dell and Ladies' Orchestra Friday.

Thursday's Chautauqua program greatly pleased the very large crowds which filled the large Chautauqua tent at Beechwood Park. The Ruth Whitworth Players presented a comedy of merit in the afternoon and another at night. Probably the largest crowd during Chautauqua week filled the tent Thursday evening when the players presented "Matrimony," a continuous scream of laughter.

Friday's program promises to be another good one with a musical concert by the Pittsburgh Ladies' Orchestra in the afternoon and at night a lecture by Dr. George E. O'Dell on "The American Home and Its Problems" followed by another concert by the Ladies' Orchestra.

Dr. O'Dell's lecture should attract a very large audience. He is advertised as a very interesting speaker and his subject is such that he should be enabled to bring something really worth while to his hearers. There is nothing which should attract the attention of the people of America so much just at this time as the home. Following so closely the masterful address of Dr. Harnly, there is every reason to believe that the Chautauqua goes will be eager to hear him.

The campaign for a 1923 Chautauqua was launched Thursday evening and it is understood that a splendid start was made toward reaching the required 1200 guarantee tickets. The committee of the American Legion as well as the Chautauqua Superintendent were very much pleased with the way the guarantee was starting off.

Dr. Ewert, popular superintendent and Morning Hour Lecturer, delivered the last of the morning hour lectures Friday morning on "The Europe of Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Dr. Ewert's morning lectures have proven to be quite a feature of the Chautauqua and he has again promised to return next year, if the guarantee is reached, to manage the 1923 Chautauqua and deliver a series of morning hour talks.
